Wildflower's sire

Lancer's offspring are consistently stocky, easy-fleshing and very correct. Daughters have level, snug udders. Since his semen sold out, we are pleased to have his son available
Photos by Rolland Jahns

Wildflower's dam was the pick of our herd, with her strength, correct lines, and excellent udder. She carries the ideal amount of linebreeding of our milkiest genetics.

Famous (pictured at the age of 15 months) has impressive depth of body and great breed character. He may be a red carrier, being sired by one. Famous' dam, pictured below at work in the pasture, is from the great Zelma family renowned for dairyness. (See Zinger's pedigree). Being naturally polled, Famous will painlessly dehorn half of his calves. His first calves show very correct conformation.

We are excited to start using this impressive young bull from the Cantagree grazing dairy in Utah. We expect him to be particularly good for calving ease. He is heterozygous polled and of native bloodlines. Brilliantly line bred with the best milking dual-purpose genetics: Meadowbrook Chieftain 9th, Flintstone Robin Hood, Scottshill Major Clark, and high-testing Lagos Cache Winner.
